SECTION 1

SCOPE OF WORK

ARIZONA DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
Procurement Section
1535 West Jefferson Street, Bin #37
Phoenix, Arizona 85007

SOLICITATION NO. ED04-0057

1. Purpose

The Arizona Department of Education and the State Board of Education desire to adopt a small number (based upon the meeting of established criteria) of valid and reliable K–3 Reading assessments, from which local educational agencies and their schools may select in order to meet the requirements of A.R.S. §15-704 (Az READS). This adoption is in addition to the Arizona Reading First Program assessment system, DIBELS: Dynamic Indicators of Basic Early Literacy Skills.

2. Background

- 2.1 The state of Arizona launched its statewide Reading initiative, Az READS, in January 2002. It brought about new K–3 reading legislation in Arizona, emphasizing scientifically based Reading research (SBRR) and instructional programs, new funding for the professional development of K–3 teachers in SBRR, and newly revised and articulated Arizona Reading Standards.
- 2.2 Arizona was one of the first states in the nation to receive a Reading First grant in August 2002, only seven months after launching its Az READS Initiative. The timing of Arizona’s federal grant award provided the unique opportunity to closely align the state’s initiative with the national Reading First effort so that they were, in fact, one and the same in both focus and emphasis. The Reading First Program has helped to draw the attention of the state’s media, Arizona’s educational and business communities and the public to the early prevention of Reading difficulties, in general, and the state of the state’s Reading achievement in particular. The Arizona Reading First Program has already began an intensive professional development campaign in scientifically based reading research in order to build its state capacity to provide training to every K–3 teacher of reading and K–12 special education teacher in the scientific research base of the five components of Reading: Phonemic Awareness, Phonics, Fluency, Text Comprehension and Vocabulary.
- 2.3 The Arizona Department of Education’s analyses of Core Reading Programs for their alignment with strategies based on scientific research in explicit and systematic reading instruction brought renewed interest among educators in applying rigorous criteria to the selection and use of such Reading materials in our state. In providing a framework of support for the development of strong leadership, the selection and use of instructional materials based on scientific research, valid and reliable K–3 assessments, and ongoing professional development in the context of strong accountability, the Arizona Department of Education believes the state will implement the changes needed to impact student Reading achievement.

3. Requirements.

- 3.1. The Offeror/Contractor shall provide valid and reliable K–3 Reading assessments developed for the purpose of screening, diagnosis and progress monitoring that are aligned to the Arizona Articulated Reading Standard.
 - 3.1.1 Assessments shall possess the technical merits, as defined by the National Reading First Assessment Committee in their report, An Analysis of K–3 Reading Assessments, and published on the University of Oregon’s IDEA website will be used to determine validity and reliability. This may be demonstrated either by favorable review by the above assessment committee, and/or by prior acceptance by the National Reading First review panel for approved state Reading First plans.
 - 3.1.2 Assessments or subtests (a test within the assessment that focuses on one of the following components) shall measure more than one essential component of Reading instruction as identified by the NRP (the report from the National Reading Panel) and aligned with Arizona’s Articulated Reading Standard (in support of Phonological Awareness, Phonics, Fluency, Comprehension and Vocabulary) and can be used for more than one purpose (screening, diagnostic, progress monitoring, and/or outcome).

- 8.4 The Offeror must propose the same plan(s), including all terms and conditions, as mutually agreed upon at the time negotiations are concluded.
